Triple Play Features Game Between Spokane and Ogden

Gimlin's Infield Gives Beautiful Exhibition of Fast Work; Indians Get to Ballinger Hard; Ogden's Rally Too Brief.

Spokane ..... 11
Ogden ..... 6

Special to The Tribune.

OGDEN, April 3.—Spokane evened up matters with Ogden this afternoon. The Indians redeemed themselves for their defeat of yesterday and won handsily from Gimlin's men, 11 to 6.

The conditions of Thursday's game, when the Ogdenites got to Baker for six runs in one inning, while the Indians had a tough time with Gaigano, Rustenhaven and Healy, were completely reversed today. Randy Ballinger, who arrived in the Ogden camp only a few days ago, started the game, and in the first two innings the Indians found him for six hits and five runs. He was relieved by Lemley, who was slightly more of a puzzle to Spokane, although he was touched for timely hits.

Triple Play Feature.

Despite the one-sided score, the game was full of interest and it was not without its features. In the eighth, a lightning triple play was pulled off, in which Risberg, Carnes and Woolums took part. With Wagner and Lynch of the Indians on first and second, respectively, Goldie hit what looked at first like a safe line drive over short. Risberg, with a sensational leap, pulled the ball down with one hand. The runners had almost reached second and third, respectively, and they could not possibly have beaten Risberg's toss to Carnes, doubling Wagner and Carnes' throw to Woolums, making Lynch the third out.

The Ogdenites went after things in the ninth inning as if to tie the score. Before the third out had been made four runs were brought across. At the beginning of the last half of the ninth, the score stood 11 to 2 for Spokane. Sharon, a left-handed recruit, was found by Gimlin's men, and Carnes started off the inning with a scorching single over second base. Rosback reached first on an error by Wagner, and Carnes was safe on second. "Ducky" Jones stepped up and lammed one at Kelley on first, who shot it to third, catching Carnes. With a man on second and one on first, Woolums sent out a single over third base, on which Rosback scored from second. Jones taking third. Then "Swede" Risberg, who sent one over the fence yesterday, took his position at the plate, and after letting two wide pitches go by, picked out a nice one and sent it far and high out into right center field. The ball fell in the trees and Risberg arrived safely at third. His hit scored Jones and Woolums.

McCorry Puzzles Ogden.

Wesley, the next man up, sent a long fly to left, making the second out. Risberg scored on a passed ball and Rael grounded out to Butler, making the third out and ending the game.

The pitching of McCorry, last year one of the mainstays of the Spokane team, was a distinctive feature. In the four innings he pitched he kept Ogden scoreless and held the team to two hits. His spectacular change of pace and his bewildering speed and curves completely baffled the Ogden batsmen. He struck out five men, and he also did well at the bat, getting three hits out of four trips to the plate.

Murphy, last year with Salt Lake, and Cobb, among the last of the Ogden players to arrive, came in yesterday, and both got a chance in the game. Murphy got a big hand when he was sent in to bat for Ballinger in the third inning. It was evident from the demonstration of the fans that he is more than welcome to Ogden, and it is also evident that much will be expected of him this year to help Ogden in the pennant race.

When Murphy stepped to the plate he looked the same as the Murphy of two years ago who helped Great Falls win the pennant and who last year helped Salt Lake to stay in the front till near the end of the season. "Murphy" let two bad ones go by, then he met one squarely and sent it sailing almost on a straight line to the right field fence. Goldie, Spokane's right fielder, playing deep, picked the drive off the fence.

Cobb was given a chance to bat for Lemley in the sixth inning. With two balls and two strikes on him, he fouled several, and the next one he missed completely. Today was Cobb's first appearance on a ball field this year and he will need several days' practice before he can return to his regular form.

The Spokane team left for Salt Lake tonight, where they will play two games with the Murray team. Manager "Bud" Gimlin is well pleased with the progress of his players, and feels confident he will enter the race as strong as any of the other teams.

Varsity Runners Who Led at Finish in Cross-country Run

Only Inch Separates Leaders; New Mark Set by "U" Sprinters.

Barely an inch separated Bernice Parkinson and Earl Wilson as they crossed the finishing line in the big annual cross-country run at the University of Utah yesterday, and it was only after a long consultation that the judges declared Parkinson winner of the race. Wilson's head and arms forged past Parkinson at the tape, but Parkinson was running erect and a large part of his body crossed the finish before Wilson fell over the line.

As the runners turned onto the cinder track for the last quarter mile of the race Parkinson, Wilson and Cutler were close together and running in the order named. Parkinson made a spur and took ten yards on the other two before they could get going. In his attempt to put on speed Cutler failed to notice the gate post as he turned into the cinder track and struck it a terrific blow with his shoulder. The impact stopped him completely for an instant and the mishap gave the other two a big lead. For 200 yards Parkinson continued to gain a little on Wilson, but as they turned into the cinder track, Parkinson was five feet and four inches tall, uncorked a sprint that set the large crowd wild with enthusiasm and had the race before two feet longer he would probably have won.

In Fast Time.

The race course led from the university gymnasium to the hill at the base of the "U" back to the campus and once around the cinder track. The distance is something over two miles and was covered in 10:17 1-5, which is thirty-one seconds faster than it was done last year.

When Coach Bennion fired the starting gun eighteen runners set off along the east fence of the campus at a great clip. They were fighting for position along the trail and for a quarter of a mile the clip was fast. Then the grade began to increase and the boys strung out in a long line. When they reached the steepest ascent near the top of the course many began to show fatigue and the line began to string out.

Wilson Has Tumble.

Parkinson was in race condition and continued to increase the pace all the way back. Just as the string neared the campus gate on their return Wilson stepped into a rabbit hole and turned a somersault. He quickly recovered his feet, however, and before another man could overtake him he regained his position behind Parkinson.

As soon as Parkinson turned into the gate he whipped up a little and the main body of runners was left hopelessly behind. Many of them dropped out and left the race to the leading five.

As they turned onto Cummins field Parkinson, who led and Nyman, who was fifth, were not more than twenty-five yards apart. The final sprint was left to the leading three, however, and at the tape Parkinson and Wilson pulled away and beat Cutler by two yards.

The race in all respects was better than any previous cross-country run and showed that there are some wonderfully strong men in the university for distances. Parkinson has been running the quarter mile for the L. D. S. U. for the past three years, but has not tried the distance before. He has a beautiful stride that carries him smoothly over the course with the greatest of ease, and after the whole thing was over he appeared to be none the worse for the race. He should develop into a magnificent miler with the proper training.

Aggie Runner Impressed.

"Bunny" Hillman, who is expected to win the mile run for the Aggies this spring, was present to see the event and declared after it was over that he would go back to Logan and plug harder than he ever did before.

Wilson has been doing the half mile for the Salt Lake high school before, but his race yesterday was easily the best in his career.

Parkinson and Wilson will both be awarded the official cross-country sweater bearing the "U" on the front. J. J. Colzani, who finished eighth in the race, was the first prep to finish and was awarded a sweater with the letters "C" on the front. Only nine men finished. They came across the line in this order: Parkinson, Wilson, Cutler, Teasdel, Nyman, Berry, Burrows, Colzani and Anderson.

MILLER-CAHOON AND L. D. S. U. PLAY TODAY

The games of the class series at the L. D. S. U., scheduled for yesterday afternoon, were postponed until April 12, as so school will be held next week. The remaining events of the class track meet will also be held on that date. Next week all the students of the L. D. S. U. will be given a week of vacation and no athletic work will be done.

This afternoon the members of the L. D. S. U. baseball squad are requested to report at the gymnasium at 1:30 o'clock as a game will be played with the Miller-Cahoon club. The game will probably be played on the Eighteenth ward square at the corner of A street and First avenue.

SALT LAKE BOXERS TO MEET OGDEN MEN

Young and Evans Billed for Star Event on Manhattan Card.

There will be some lively doings at the Garfield theater Monday night, when the boxers of this city meet those of Ogden to decide the inter-city boxing championship at the regular weekly show of the Manhattan club. Manager Downing has lined up his best boys to send against the Ogden city aggregation and some rattling good bouts are assured.

The Ogdenites have been preparing for this meeting and are coming over cocked and ready to give the local boys a good trimming, but they will find that they are up against a tougher bunch of lads than has ever been lined up against them before. The Ogden boxers have been coming to Salt Lake and winning their bouts with surprising regularity, and Downing has decided that it is about time to call a halt and has lined up his best boys for Monday's meeting.

The headliner bout will bring together Ned Young, the sensational local boy, and Grant Evans of Ogden. The latter has won every bout in which he has competed in this city and the Ogden city fans are coming in a body to see him turn the trick on Young if he can. He will find that Young is the classiest proposition he has ever met in this city and also he will find that he is meeting a boy who will be in condition to go the route this time. Young neglected his training for his last bout with Charles Midkiff and met his Waterloo in the first round, but he has learned a lesson and is doing some real training for this contest.

"Red" Newey, the Ogden boy who made such a good impression on the fans when he stopped "Black" McAllister in a round some time ago, will be matched with Tom Crawford, the local lightweight, who has been coming to the front so rapidly that the fans will not doubt be treated to some red-hot milling in this contest. Crawford has never lost a bout since he began boxing and he is showing wonderful improvement with every match. He is a boxer who can always be depended upon to battle from the first ring rap until the bout is over.

Charles Midkiff, who has won a home with the fans in his recent bouts by his dazed determination and aggressiveness, will meet "Young" Drayden from Ogden. The latter has boxed in this city only once and the fans barely had a chance to get a real line on him as he stopped his man before the first round was half over, but he the short time he was in action he showed the ear marks of a classy boy and will no doubt give Midkiff a stiff argument.

Joe Pelcher, the hard-hitting Ogdenite, will be

ORPHEUM PERFORMERS BEAT PANTAGES NINE

In Addition to Baseball, Actors Give Classy Vaudeville Show; Much Comedy Wasted.

The Orpheum performers showed "big-town" class on Lucas field yesterday forenoon when they played a selected nine from the current Pantages bill. After nine desperate innings the final score stood 5 to 12 in favor of "Advanced Vaudeville," while the "Unquailed Vanterillians" chased the umpire, who shall be nameless, off the lot.

Unbated critics aver that the Orpheum put one over on the Pantages performers inasmuch as they rang in two days' warfare for their battery in the persons of De Marest and Chabot, who played fifty-three games last year and lost only one. Chabot is an excellent pitcher. As for the Orpheum performer was Page, who faced out a home run in dazzling style. Page is the good-looking young chap in George Damrell's act.

For Pantages De Gray, Denny and Walsh showed up in good form. While both teams were made up in part of actors on the current week's bills, they were reinforced by recruits from the stage, orchestra pit and the front of the respective houses.

Outside of the plays in detail the few spectators were regaled with an impromptu vaudeville show in the form of airy cordage handed out by the non-playing vaudevilleans, who gathered to root for their respective teams.

There was quite a nifty bunch of comedy wasted on the crisp air. Green, in center field, made the most spectacular catch of the game, taking with one hand a long fly from off the fence. The line-up follows:

De Marest.....P.....Denny.....Denny
Chabot.....P.....Walsh.....Walsh

WANTED—NICKNAMES

A new nickname is wanted for the Salt Lake baseball club; also one is wanted for the Murray club. "Skyscrapers" is unwieldy and, besides, it never got Salt Lake anything better than second place.

The Tribune offers season tickets for the "at home" games of the Salt Lake and Murray teams for the best nickname to supplant "Skyscrapers," and for a name for Murray. "Mormons" and "Saints" are barred, for obvious reasons. The plan has the indorsement of George O. Relf, president of the Salt Lake club, and Dr. C. P. Harville, president of the Murray club.

If more than one person submits the name finally approved by the president of the club, the winner will be determined by lot.
